1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Relationship and sex education at The WASP Centre will ensure that young people are healthy, happy and safe. We aim to enable the pupils to make safe decisions and give them the information and tools they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships. It will enable them to know what a healthy relationship looks like, including resisting pressure and what makes a good friend, a successful marriage, respect (for ourselves and others). The curriculum will teach what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour in relationships, which will help pupils understand the positive effects that good relationships have on their mental wellbeing, identify when relationships are not right and understand how such situations can be managed.

RSE is also about the physical, emotional, social, moral and legal dimensions of human sexuality as well as factual teaching about sex, sexuality and sexual health. RSE is not just about having the knowledge, it is also about having the skills to make the right decisions.

In addition, Brunel College believes that RSE should:

- Be an integral part of the lifelong learning process, beginning in early childhood and continue into adult life
- Be an entitlement for all young people
- Encourage every pupil to contribute to make our community and aims to support each individual as they grow and learn
- Be set within this wider school context and supports family commitment and love, respect and affection, knowledge and openness. Family is a broad concept; not just one model, e.g. nuclear family. It includes a variety of types of family structure, and acceptance of different approaches
- Encourage pupils and teachers to share and respect each other's views. We are aware of different approaches to sexual orientation, without promotion of any particular family structure. The important values are love, respect and care for each other
- Generate an atmosphere where questions and discussion on sexual matters can take place without any stigma or embarrassment
- Recognise that parents are the key people in teaching their children about sex, relationships and growing up
- Recognise that the wider community has much to offer and we aim to work in partnership with health professionals, social workers, peer educators and other mentors or advisers

2. Statutory requirements

As a secondary independent school we must provide RSE to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Brunel College we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff or working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out in the Curriculum Journey for PSHE RSE and the Curriculum Steps for PSHE RSE but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

6. Delivery of RSE

Brunel College acknowledges that age-appropriate teaching can help pupils prepare for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life as well as promoting the spiritual, moral, social, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils both at school and in society.

RSE will be set in the context of a wider whole-school approach to supporting pupils to be safe, happy and prepared for life beyond school. The curriculum on relationships and sex will complement and be supported by the school's wider policies on Equality and Diversity, safeguarding, SEND provision, Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) Education.

Any RSE lesson may consider questions or issues that some students will find sensitive. Before embarking on these lessons ground rules are established which prohibit inappropriate personal information being requested or disclosed by those taking part in the lesson. When students ask questions, we aim to answer them honestly, within the ground rules established at the start of the sessions. When it is felt that answering a specific question would involve information at a level inappropriate to the development of the rest of the students, the question may be dealt with individually at another time. Should pupils have a question they don't feel able to ask in the lesson, the school will have a 'PSHE question box' for pupils to submit their question to the PSHE lead who will then address the matter.

The curriculum has been planned and designed using a variety of different sources, such as the Department for Education: Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health education¹, PSHE Association: Programme of study for PSHE Education² and ECPublishing Resources³.

Pupils may also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Inclusion

Ethnic and Cultural Groups

We intend our policy to be sensitive to the needs of different ethnic groups. For some young people it is not culturally appropriate for them to be taught particular content in mixed groups. We will respond to parental requests and concerns and action these where possible.

Pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)

We will ensure that all young people receive RSE, and we will offer provision appropriate to the particular needs of all our students, taking specialist advice where necessary.

As far as is appropriate, young people with SEND follow the same RSE programme as all other students. Careful consideration is given concerning the level of differentiation needed, and in some cases the content or delivery will be adapted. Learning support assistants work with individual pupils where required, sometimes on a one to one basis. Where a student has significant gaps in learning, or missed education, the PSHE Lead may deliver 1:1 RSE lessons with the student to address those gaps and provide tailored sessions.

Sexual Identity and Sexual Orientation

We aim to deal sensitively and honestly with issues of sexual orientation, answer appropriate question and offer support. Young people, whatever their developing sexuality need to feel that sex and relationship education is relevant to them.

Working with external agencies

Whenever possible it is hoped to involve visitors and other outside agencies to help and support RSE provision within the school. This can be as part of the planning process as well as with the delivery of RSE. When visitors are used this is to compliment the RSE Programme, they will never be used to substitute or replace planned provision. When visitors and other outside agencies help and support in the delivery of RSE, there will always be a member of staff present during the lesson and the content will always be looked at prior to the lesson taking place.

The school will also ensure that the visitor is aware of aspects of confidentiality and understands how safeguarding reports should be dealt with in line with the school's Safeguarding Policy.

Safeguarding and confidentiality

Staff cannot offer unconditional confidentiality. Staff are not legally bound to inform parents and carers or headteacher of any disclosure, however any necessary information will be passed to the schools designated safeguarding officer. In any case where child protection procedures are followed, the member of staff will ensure that the young person understands that if confidentiality has to be broken, they will be informed first.

Health professionals in school are bound by their codes of conduct in a one-to-one situation with an individual pupil, but in a classroom situation they must follow the school's confidentiality policy.

Through the school nurse and other key members of staff (including the PSHE co-ordinator), pupils are signposted towards confidential sources of support for relationships and sexual health issues in their area.

7. Roles and responsibilities

The board of trustees

- Ensure the RSE policy is fit for purpose and fulfils its legal obligation
- Ensure parents and carers have had a consultation period before the implementation of the policy

The Headteacher

- Monitor the implementation of the policy
- Ensure all staff are informed of the policy and the responsibilities they have
- Ensure staff have time to receive up to date training
- Work with parents and carers to keep them informed of the curriculum and ensure all information is clear, including to those who wish for their child to be withdrawn.

PSHE lead

- Monitor the implementation of the policy and delivery of content with the headteacher
- Ensure Continued Profession Development (CPD) opportunities are provided for staff, specifically those who are delivering RSE.
- Monitor and evaluate the quality of the curriculum in place to all pupils
- Liaise with the Designated Safeguarding Leads (DSLs) to ensure the curriculum is most relevant to our pupils

Staff

- Ensure the classroom is a safe place with established ground rules prior to delivering the content
- Ensure they are aware of the, up to date, statutory requirements and policy
- Ensure resources are appropriate for those pupils they are teaching
- Emphasise the importance of RSE in relation to making informed choices
- Ensure all teaching is unbiased
- Where appropriate they direct pupils to seek advice from an appropriate agency or individual

Parents and Carers

The school recognises the key role that parents and carers play in the development of their children's understanding about relationships. Parents are the first educators of their children as you have the most significant influence in enabling their child to grow and mature, forming healthy relationships.

7.4 Students

Students are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity. Students will be reminded to abide by the classroom rules and any subject specific ground rules for sensitive topics.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents and carers have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education delivered as part of statutory RSE (they cannot be withdrawn from relationship education). The school, before granting any such request, will require the Headteacher to discuss the request with the parents and carers. This is to ensure that their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum at which point parents and carers are welcome to review any RSE resources the academy uses. If you wish to withdraw your child from sex education then a letter or email must be sent to Mr Craig Noble (Headteacher).

Following the discussions, except in exceptional circumstances, the Trust will respect the parents' and carers' request to withdraw their child, up to and until three terms before the child turns 16. After that point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than be withdrawn, the school should make arrangements to provide the child with sex education during one of those terms.

The Headteacher and PSHE lead will ensure that where a pupil is excused from sex education, the pupil will receive appropriate, purposeful education during the period of withdrawal.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the Assistant Headteacher Curriculum/ Teaching and learning through:

- Various monitoring, such as learning walks, work scrutiny and student feedback.
- Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by the Senior Leadership Team as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by bi-annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by The Headteacher and Board of Trustees.
